As time is swiftly drawing the curtains which shall mark the end of our experiences as students on the campus of Boiling Springs College, it is our purpose in this edition of BUBBLES to bring together some pleasant memories of our two years here and to turn the hour glass on another successful year in the development of a GREATER BOILING SPRINGS COLLEGE of tomorrow.

BOILING SPRINGS COLLEGE

This, the 1940 BUBBLES, marks a step of progressiveness for us and our institution. We sincerely believe that in future years Boiling Springs College will live in the hearts of its patrons as never before. This renewed interest is, and will be, a result of the tireless work of our faithful president, Mr. J. R. Cantrell, who has placed our college before the minds of people throughout the state, causing a bright future to shine for the dearest institution in the world.

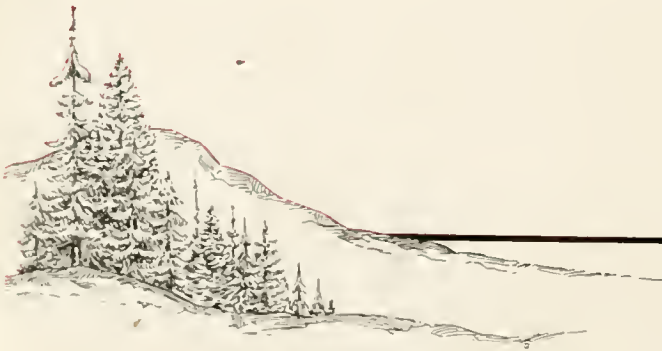

Therefore, to do a tiny part in paying a tribute to the future of our school, we dedicate this issue of BUBBLES to the GREATER BOILING SPRINGS COLLEGE of tomorrow.

Alma Mater . . .

*At the foot of the mountains
Is our college—proud she stands—
Serving all who want her service,
Blessing all with outstretched hands,
Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
We sing our love to thee.
We pledge our hearts in deep devotion,
Our love, our faith, eternally.*

*In our hearts we enthrone thee;
Take our homage—death denied—
Brings no sacrificial service,
But for thee all love had died.
Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
We sing our love to thee.
We pray that we, in deep affection,
May work, may serve, eternally.*

ADMINISTRATION

Administration Building . . .

This building has been the center of all college activities since its construction in 1907. It contains forty-four dormitory rooms, a chapel, library, class-rooms, a music studio, parlors, and executive offices. In the basement of the building are the dining room, kitchen, and storage rooms. During the past year, improvements have been made in the building including new flooring and re-wiring.

Fond memories of this dear old building will always remain in our hearts.

REV. J. R. CANTRELL

*A.B., Wake Forest College
President*

Our President, Rev. J. R. Cantrell, is the first alumnus to return as president. He finished Boiling Springs College in 1919. After receiving his A.B. from Wake Forest College, he attended short sessions at the Southern Baptist Seminary.

His first pastorate was the First Baptist Church of Hillsboro. He was then with the General Board as an Evangelist for three and one-half years. He was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Newton for seven years, then Calvary Baptist Church in Morganton for about one and one-half years.

Mr. Cantrell came to us at Boiling Springs in 1939, and has given this college one of its most successful years.

A Message From Our President . . .

There are certain ideals that have, as you know, always characterized this institution, and may it be highly resolved by one and all of us that these ideals and traditions shall not be lost, nor lowered, but shall be exalted and perpetuated, thereby giving the old School more prestige and power. The foundation has been laid; the interest of our people has been enlisted; several years of successful work have been completed; an undying spirit has been generated. With this heritage we stand on the threshold of greater development for this institution, a vision for the future—new buildings, larger student body, sounder finances, higher standards, and a richer curriculum.

Memorial Building

The walls of this burned building are under reconstruction. When again completed, it will contain a large and adequate auditorium, biology and chemistry laboratories, music studios and classrooms. It is expected to be used by students in the fall of 1940.

This building is the first of four new ones to be started. However, it is hoped that the foundations for the others will soon have been laid.

HOROSCOPE

As the Class of 1940 was contemplating its coming commencement exercises, it fell to my lot to forecast the future of these fair damsels and gallant young men. After vainly endeavoring to cultivate what is commonly known as "second sight," I concluded that prophetic vision was not my strongest point. The only resource left was the immortal crystal ball so, resigning myself to its powers, I discover the fate of my fellow-students of the Class of 1940 at Boiling Springs College.

Upon gazing into the clear crystal, I see a blur of faces. One comes nearer to my point of view and I recognize the president of our class, James Rotan as Sports Editor of the Cramerton Daily Blast. Next in line of vision comes Inez Putnam who is making her debut into New York society. She is a recent product of Martin's Success and Glamour School, owned and operated by Mildred Martin. R. C. Doggett owns "Bright Spot," a theater on Broadway, where Bernice Cain's (Richard Taylor) latest picture, "Hearts Aflame," has been called back for a return engagement. At a nearby night club, I see George Chatham, the head waiter. His sweet little wife, Miss Clark of the class of '41, is at home with the kids.

In Chicago, J. C. Dighviscofvitch is director of a symphonic orchestra.

Mr. O. B. Lancaster is president of the Southern Baptist Convention and pastor of the First Baptist Church in Atlanta, Georgia. Also in Atlanta I see Jesse Sprinkle, president of a Charity Board. Mr. Guy Walker is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Columbia, South Carolina.

Mrs. R. F. Morgan, none other than "Sunshine" Toms, is retired head-nurse of the Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem. She has a job of housekeeping now.

Joe and John Compton are twin internes in the newly founded hospital at the New York of the South, Cliffside, North Carolina. Mr. D. L.

Wilson is the mayor of this thriving town, much aided by his helpful and loving little wife, Ruby Dixon. Ola Mae Cash is still happily married in the same town.

In Shelby, quite a few class-mates are located. Frank Dover is a policeman. Geneva and Victoria Cash have a thriving business as seamstresses for the town. Arlan Bailey is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Shelby. Mrs. Bailey, the former Miss Reba Brooks, is quite an inspiration. Catherine Jenkins teaches voice in Shelby High School, where Yvonne Ray is an excellent piano teacher. Her latest popular song, "Rose in Spring," has just been printed. Rose and Mary Harrill have a very exclusive dress shop in Shelby. Next door is "The Powder Puff," a beauty parlor, efficiently operated by Mrs. ————, the former Marie E. Hamrick.

Familiar campus scenes now enter the crystal ball. Back at Boiling Springs several friends have met once more. The college has grown and the campus covers about forty acres, with twelve beautiful buildings. In the faculty I see Jenois Proctor, head of the French department, Mary Martin, head of the Commercial department, and Nancy Carroll Moore teaches voice. Katherine Bankhead lives in the community as Mrs. Jenkins. Thomas Lee is manager of a ten-cent store in the town. A small broadcasting station has been erected and I see Ruth Martin presenting an excellent daily talk on successful candy making. The Mathematics department of the college is using a book compiled by James Price and Beatrice Phillips. Lettie Scruggs operates an ice-cream parlor on the campus.

The misty blur of faces again fills the crystal ball, and the prophecy is complete. I find that my friends have been successful in their chosen careers, whether in home-making or the professional world. Part of this success is surely due to the influence and advice gained at dear Boiling Springs College.

First Baptist Church

The church is the center of Christian activities on our campus. Since the majority of our students are Baptist, it is quite natural that the Baptist Church should be a nucleus for Baptist work.

The building, constructed at a cost of more than sixty-five thousand dollars, contains one of the most beautiful auditoriums in Cleveland County. All class rooms are systematically arranged around the auditorium.

Boys' Dormitory

This brick structure contains twenty-four rooms used exclusively by boys. In the last year it has been completely renovated with newly plastered walls, new bath equipment and replaced windows and damaged doors and jams. A cement porch has been added, and a recreation room inside—all of which make the boys proud of the fact that their building has been changed from a barn into a very livable dormitory.
